Soviets Indicate Willingness To Settle Problems

Moscow, Saturday (AP)—Russia's new leaders in a statement covering the entire front page of Pravda declared today they will welcome any step of the United States directed at friendly settlement of troublesome problems.

The statement welcomed President Eisenhower's words of peace in his speech of April 16. It said:

"The words of President Eisenhower were met with a feeling of sympathy when he said 'we are seeking a genuine and complete peace in all Asia and the entire world' and also his declaration that 'not one of the troublesome questions, be it great or small, is insoluble in the presence of a desire to respect the rights of other countries.'"

"This," it said, "is evidence of readiness of the Soviet side for serious businesslike discussion of corresponding problems both by means of direct talks and also in necessary cases within the framework of the United Nations."

Pravda also hinted that Russia might be willing to join in the new kind of war Eisenhower suggested—a war on poverty and need financed from savings achieved by disarmament, once a settlement is reached.

More Americans Released By Reds

Panmunjom, Saturday (AP)—The Communists today released a bonus number of Americans, British and Turks in line with their promise to go beyond the limit they had set for the first sick and wounded prisoner exchange of the Korean War.

Crossing the line to freedom were 17 Americans, four British, four Turks and 75 South Koreans.

The Reds promised to free tomorrow 13 Americans and 71 disabled South Koreans.

In six swift days the Reds have handed over at this tiny truce village:

136 Americans — 16 more than promised.
32 British — 12 more than pledged.
15 Turks — the total they had set for all non-Korean nationalities other than British and Americans.
17 Colombians, Australians, Canadians, South Africans, Greeks, Filipinos and Netherlands.
400 South Koreans.

The men freed today looked in fairly good shape. Among them was a U. S. Navy fighter pilot who left a bride of six days when he went to fight in Korea early in 1952. Also in the group was a U. S. Air Force enlisted man, four U. S. Marines and 11 American soldiers.

All came back to the assurance of adequate care and comfort in hospitals or in their family homes as the needs may require. This was in contrast to the crude and often stinky care which earlier repatriates had said was given in Red hospitals and stockades.

Another 38 Allied repatriates were flown from Korea to Japan today in a big C124 Globemaster transport plane.

Aboard was the first U. S. Air Force man to be returned by the Reds, Airman 2C, Robert Weinbrandt, El Cajon, Calif.

Weinbrandt was one of five men carried aboard the Globemaster on stretchers. The other 33 walked up the ramp.

Freed Captives Tells Of Reds' Death Camp

Freedom Village, Korea, (AP)—A U. S. private crossed the threshold of freedom yesterday telling of a nightmare Death Valley camp where 200 of 1,000 prisoners died in hunger and numbing cold.

Others, free to talk once more after months in Communist captivity, told of more "death marches" across North Korea's frozen wastes, one of which 400 out of 1,200 who started, died.

And one said Red captors clapped prisoners into punishment cages so small "you couldn't stand up." He declared prisoners were caged for the slightest offenses, such as grumbling at compulsory Communist lectures.

Some prisoners became so ravenous in the Death Valley camp that they ate dogs, he said.

The death toll is impossible to calculate from the brief interviews. But they have borne out the worst Allied fears for many men listed as "missing in action."

Many told of the nightmare camp at Death Valley, a way station on the way to the Communist prison stockades.

War Industry Buildup Will Get Priority

Washington, (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has virtually agreed on the policy of building a broad industrial base for mobilization, it was reported yesterday, despite Secretary of Defense Wilson's desire for greater emphasis on actual arms production.

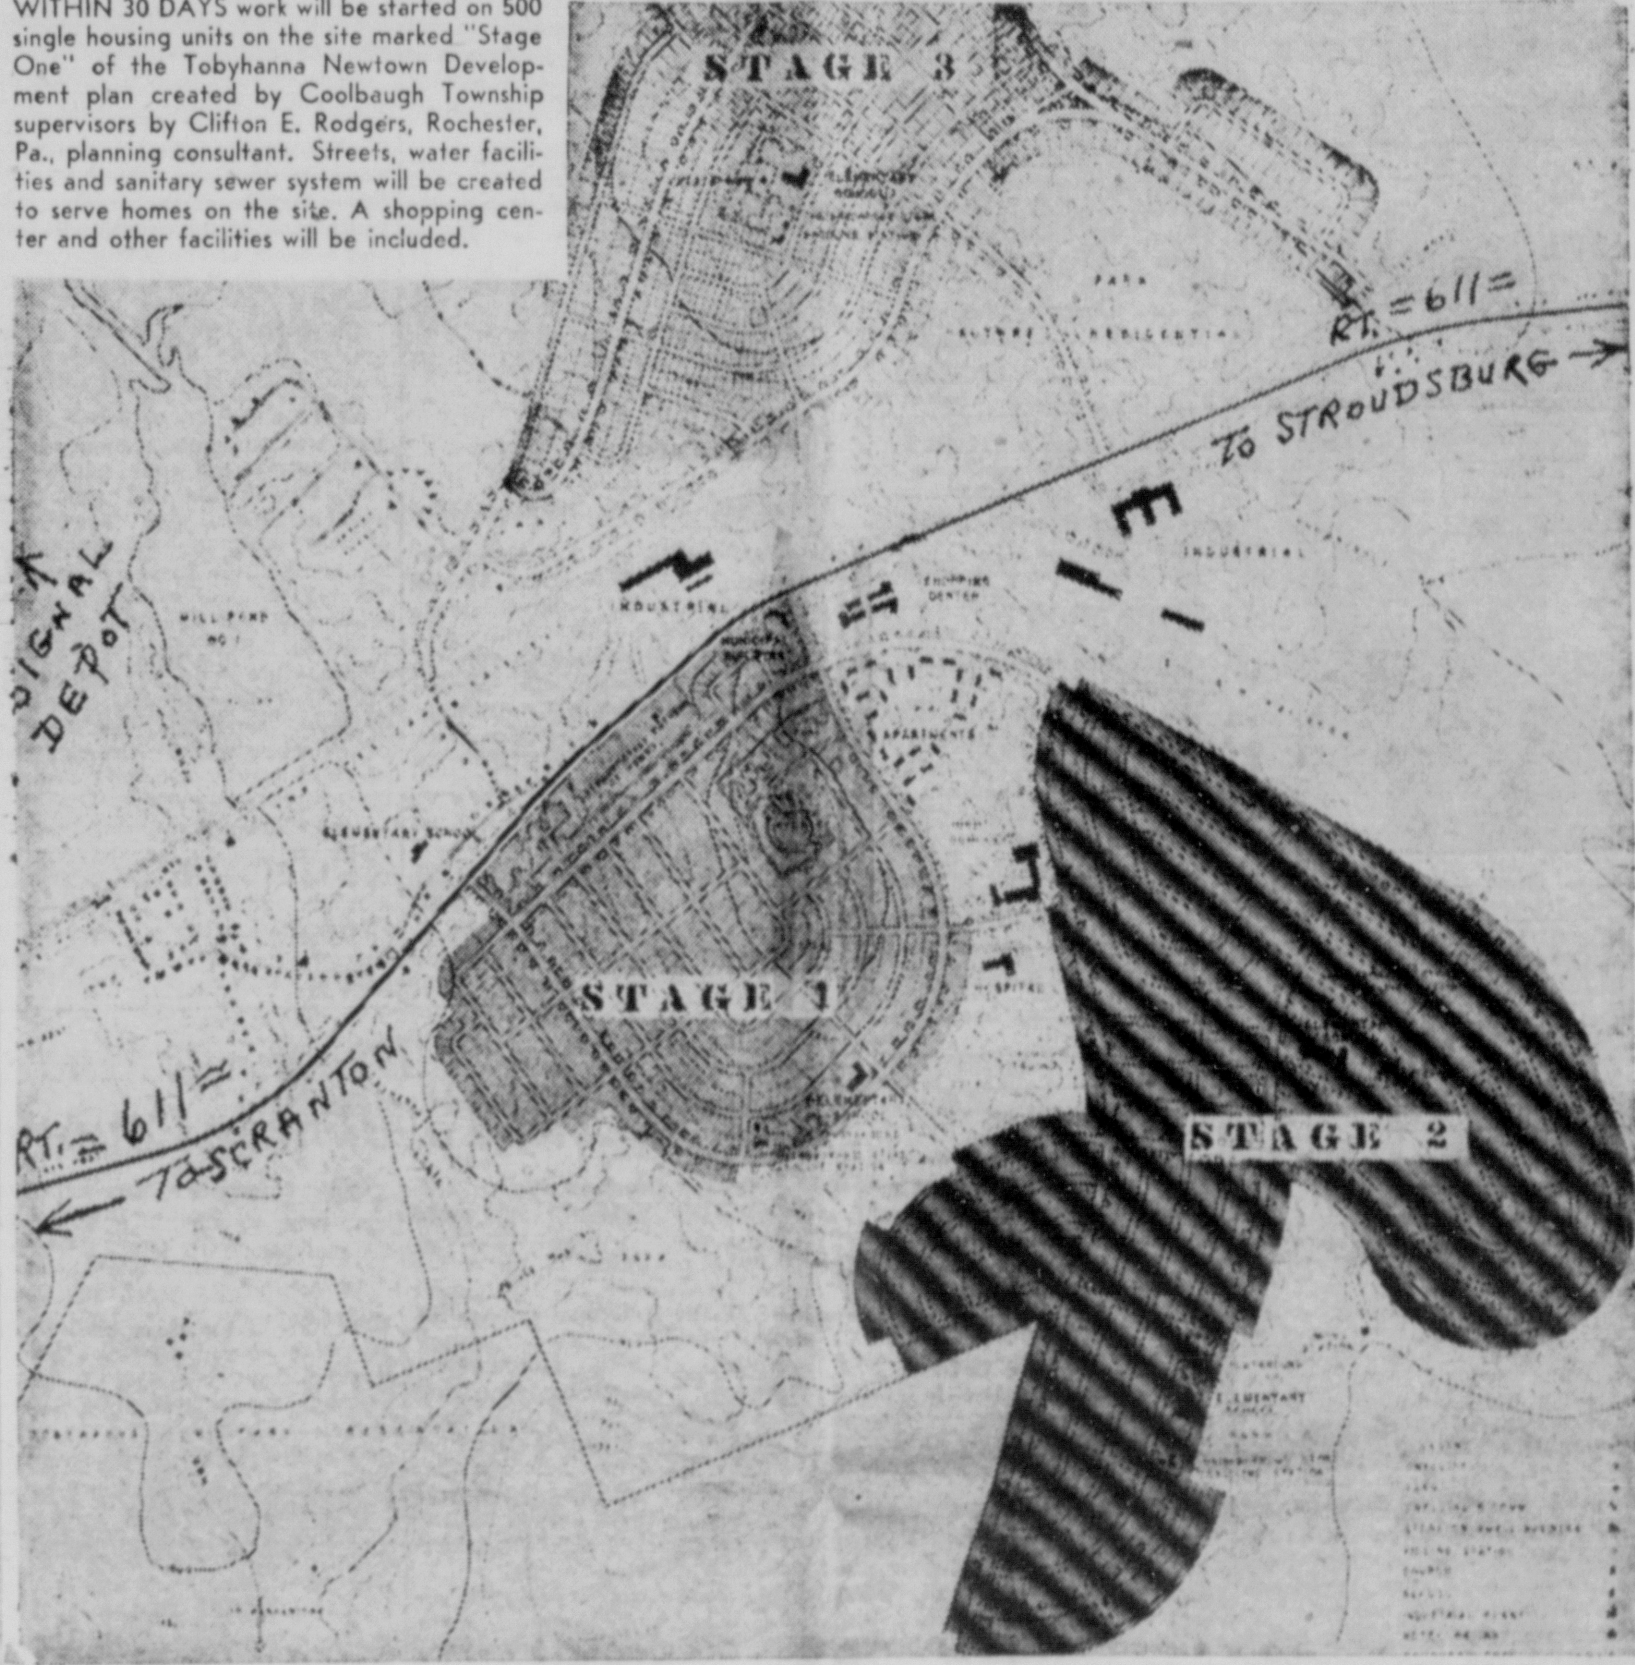

President Eisenhower's mobilization board, including six Cabinet officers and Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming, was said to have approved tentatively a statement endorsing the present policy of developing plant capacity for a possible future emergency.

Whether President Eisenhower would make the statement public was uncertain. In any case, it is intended to provide guidance for administration witnesses testifying before congressional committees.

The mobilization issue has been debated behind scenes since the disclosure, three weeks ago, that Wilson believed too much money and resources were being devoted to standby plants and equipment for possible future use and too little for actual manufacture of weapons.

The statement now drafted, informed persons said, makes a bow to Wilson by calling for as great a rate of military production as is consistent with keeping armament production in "balance."

WITHIN 30 DAYS work will be started on 500 single housing units on the site marked "Stage One" of the Tobyhanna Newtown Development plan created by Coolbaugh Township supervisors by Clifton E. Rodgers, Rochester, Pa., planning consultant. Streets, water facilities and sanitary sewer system will be created to serve homes on the site. A shopping center and other facilities will be included.

Work On Newtown Project To Start Within 30 Days

Tobyhanna—Within 30 days construction will be started on 500 single dwelling units on the "Stage One" tract of the Tobyhanna Newtown development tract.

Irvin C. Foster, secretary-treasurer of the Board of Supervisors of Coolbaugh Township, announced last night he had been advised by Abe Mentz, president of the Tobyhanna Development Corp., that details relating to the housing project have been completed.

The Tobyhanna Development Corp. has offices at 24 Commerce St., Newark, N. J.

The Tobyhanna Newtown Development project, prepared for Coolbaugh Township supervisors by Clifton E. Rodgers, Rochester, Pa., planning consultant, will be used.

Supervisors have been working since 1951 to meet the demands for housing by having private enterprise develop the Newtown project. Other members of the board of supervisors are Edgar Wiley, chairman, and Ralph Neipert, road-master.

Mr. Mentz' letter to Mr. Foster said that 300 single dwelling units will be offered for sale "at moderate prices." Another 200 units will be for rental purposes.

Rentals will range from $79.50 for two bedroom units to $92 a month for three bedroom units. Schedule of rentals for the proposed Wherry Housing project, planned by the military in the Pentagon for a site on the Signal Depot, range to $95 a month for a three bedroom unit.

Mr. Mentz' announcement was also mailed to Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe, Sen. Edward Martin, Sen. James H. Duff, Lt. Col. Rex F. Toomey in the Pentagon and Mr. Rodgers.

The letter urges Army authorities to accept a proposal of the Tobyhanna Development Corp.—a corporate group formed especially to handle housing on the Newtown tract—to provide adequate housing for military and key personnel from the Signal Corps Depot on private land and under the auspices of private enterprise.

This proposal matches the Wherry Housing program. Mr. Mentz also advised the Pentagon officials that if they still prefer the Wherry Program, "we will give the government a site of 20 acres for the project in the Newtown and furnish off-site water and sewer connections."

Supervisors have endeavored to have all housing serving the depot on private property where it can be assessed for taxes and give them a taxing equity to offset the fact that half the township land is owned by government—and therefore tax-free.

The Newtown Project is backed by a master zoning ordinance, prepared by a zoning commission which recommended it for adoption by supervisors.

Supervisors adopted the zoning ordinance and also named a Board of Adjustment to handle all hearings connected with operation of zoning.

The president of the Tobyhanna Development Corp. emphasized the advantages of his concern's proposal to the Army. He listed them as follows:

Priority will be granted civilian and military personnel of the Signal Corps Depot. The government will save $200,000 which is required to provide off-site improvements to serve the Wherry Housing program as planned on the government reservation.

The depot personnel will live in attractive Newtown Development. The 200 housing units, if transferred to the Newtown site, will greatly assist in establishing the equity in the form of revenues required to start the town sewer and water program.

The government would save $30,000 annually by having a housing project that is tax producing to the community and thereby eliminate subsidy payments in lieu of taxes as proposed in the Wherry program.

The monthly rentals to personnel of the depot would not exceed that of the Wherry program. Construction standards of the housing are equal to or better than the Wherry program.

Wherry Housing program does not conform with zoning and subdivision regulations of the town, while the new housing development does conform with the regulations.

Mr. Mentz winds up his list of advantages with the offer of a performance bond to assure completion of the housing project the same as the Army now holds of Wherry Housing.

Forest Fires Sweep Across 185 Acres

Despite heavy rains early this month forest fires began springing up in Monroe and Pike Counties once the sun began parching the region and three blazes within the past two days kept volunteer firefighters on their toes.

E. C. Pyle, district forester, disclosed the forest fires yesterday as a large blaze raged out-of-control between Bushkill and Resaca.

Spotted early in the morning, the fire spread through dense forest areas and burned off nearly 150 acres before it was controlled. Marshalls Creek Fire Co. augmented volunteer forest workers and wardens to battle the blaze.

The epidemic of fires began at 2:30 p. m. Thursday when 10 acres near the Tobyhanna U. S. Signal Corps depot began burning. Depot workers, Coolbaugh Township Fire Co. and other volunteers checked the spread toward Gouldsboro under the direction of George W. Raish, forest inspector of Tannersville, Pyle said.

Half an hour later 25 acres began burning in the Hawkey's Pond region of Lynchwood Lake between Mount Pocono Airport and the D&W railroad station. Mount Pocono Volunteer Fire Co. aided volunteers in battling the blaze there.

Pyle warned residents and transients to be especially careful for the next two months until the dried areas gain their Summer green and the dangers of forest fires are over.

B-29, Jet Collide During Secret Flight; Six Dead

Westhampton, N. Y., (AP)—A B-29 Superfort and a fast F84 Thunderjet, on a secret experimental mission high above Long Island, crashed in flight yesterday. Six or seven men died; there were no survivors.

The Air Force said the nature of the test flight was hush-hush. It denied an early report that the B-29 was refueling the jet in flight at the time of the crash.

MacArthur Urges Action Against China

Washington (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur whipped up a new wave of debate on Far East strategy yesterday by declaring the Korean War and all other global issues could be settled promptly by notifying the Chinese Reds that their bases and supply lines would be destroyed.

Initial reaction from senators ranged from lukewarm to cold, but Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) decried MacArthur "is absolutely right" and called for use of atomic bombs on strategic targets in North China and Manchuria.

MacArthur said in a letter made public by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) that Communist China never would have entered the Korean War in the first place if it had not been confident that it would not be subjected to Allied bombing.

He hinted that somebody may have "conveyed" assurances to the Chinese that they would be immune from such attacks.

Responding to a request by Byrd for comment on the Senate investigation of ammunition shortages in Korea, MacArthur said it was not a lack of supplies but a lack of "the will for victory" that has prolonged the conflict with results "disastrous beyond imagination."

Ike Orders Draft Of Seaway Plans

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower yesterday directed a subcommittee to draft detailed proposals for U. S. participation in constructing the long-debated St. Lawrence seaway project.

The President acted after discussing the controversial issue with his Cabinet in the regular Friday meeting.

Eisenhower notified the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the National Security Council regards "early initiation and completion" of the St. Lawrence seaway as in the interest of national security.

Queen Elevates Churchill To Knight Of Garter

Windsor, England, (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II knighted Winston Churchill last night, elevating him to the highest order of British chivalry with the touch of a golden sword.

The British Prime Minister, 78, knelt before his young Queen in the drawing room in Windsor Castle to receive—for his decades of service to the empire and the throne—the accolade he declined from her father, King George VI.

"Arise, Sir Winston," she said.

He arose as the Right Honorable Sir Winston Churchill, Knight of the Garter, this half-American grandson of the seventh Duke of Marlborough.

Lewis Urges Repeal Of All Labor Laws

Washington, (AP)—John L. Lewis yesterday proposed that Congress repeal all labor relations laws of the past 21 years but Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) questioned whether it might result in returning labor relations to "the law of the jungle."

Taft, the Senate majority leader, and Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Union, engaged in a brief, but lively clash at a Senate Labor Committee hearing into proposals to change the Taft-Hartley Act.

The two men battled in an atmosphere of good humor before a packed and often laughing audience. Lewis urged Congress to wipe the Wagner Act off the statute books along with the Taft-Hartley Act. He said employers and workers could then fight it out in free collective bargaining "without government interference."

Taft said he generally favored the idea of getting the government out of the labor relations arena, but it had proved impossible in 1947 when the Taft-Hartley Act was passed, and he wondered whether the time had yet arrived.

The Ohio senator said it might be all right for the big unions, but perhaps some of the smaller unions still needed legal protection.

Reckless Driving Charge Faces Getz

A Gouldsboro man and wife were still in "critical" condition at Hahnemann Hospital, Scranton, last night suffering from injuries they received in a two-car smash-up at Tobyhanna Wednesday afternoon.

Hospital authorities said both Asa English, 78, and his wife, 70 were unchanged.

Russell Gaffney, 33, Allentown, was still in "fair" condition. Gaffney was removed from an oxygen tent last night, however.

Two others injured in the accident—Robert Getz, Allentown, and Gilda Wolden, Sellersville RD-4—were reported "good."

Mount Pocono State police, who investigated the crash said Getz will probably be charged with reckless driving.

Police Thwart Holdup; Bandit Kills Himself

St. Louis (AP)—Police thwarted an attempted bank robbery with tear gas and bullets yesterday, while employees and customers trapped inside the bank with the bandits looked on in terror.

The dramatic robbery attempt interrupted a meeting of the bank's Board of Directors and left one robber dead—a suicide—and two other bandits and a policeman wounded.

A mysterious message chalked on a back wall of the building, the words "Will be robbed," had gone unheeded. Police said they learned a woman had seen the warning there Thursday.

Before the gun battle started the bandits succeeded in stuffing about $143,000 in a zippered canvas satchel. It was found on the floor of a teller's cage and the money recovered.

The robber who shot himself to death as police closed in was identified through papers he was carrying as Frank Vito, 25, of Chicago.

Golden Text Selected

The Golden Text of the lesson sermon entitled "Probatum est in Death," which will be read in all Christian Science churches Sunday is taken from the First Epistle of Paul to the Corinthians (6:14): "God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power."

The following will be read among Bible selections (1 Cor. 15: 51, 52): "Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed. . . for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed."

A correlative passage is to be found among those to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (7: 5-6, 9-11): "Existence continues to be a belief of corporeal sense until the Science of being is reached. . . Death will occur on the next plane of existence as on this, until the spiritual understanding of Life is reached."

12,600 Cancer Dressings Made By Volunteer Workers, Distributed To Monroe County Patients In 14 Months

Volunteer workers have distributed 12,600 dressings to Monroe County cancer patients since Feb. 19, 1952, according to the chairman for services of the Monroe Unit of the American Cancer Society.

A total of 35,000 cancer dressings have been made during this same period. Workers have also concentrated on the making of "Johnnie-cats" and donation of wax paper for bed pads, shirts, sheets, pillow cases and tablecloths for the manufacture of dressings.

One of the workers' biggest assets in making dressings came with the donation of an electric cloth cutter by H. W. Minter of the Linda Blouse Co., East Stroudsburg. The electric cutter was given to cancer workers expressly for use in making dressings. It is operated for the local unit by Harry Frank of Stroudsburg, an experienced cutter operator.

Other donations of material have been made by the Holland Thread Co. and Keiper's Laundry.

As one of its goals, the local volunteer unit has been working toward a cancer dressing "stockpile" so that "sufficient dressings would be on hand to meet county needs."

This "stockpiling" of dressings has been highly successful, according to cancer unit officials.

Persons in the area who "know of any patients in Monroe County who need dressings" should call 542-J on Monday, Tuesday or Friday afternoons or write to the Monroe County Cancer Society at 615 Sarah St., Stroudsburg for service and information.

Mrs. Elsie Stanford, service chairman of the organization, in making her report on the number of dressings finished and distributed, extended thanks to the following individual cancer dressing

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—Acts 15:36-18:22

By Newman Campbell

One of the most interesting things about traveling is the people you meet. In his many missionary journeys Paul met many people—some opposed to him; others were his converts and friends. There were also some who had heard of the new gospel and were curious to hear its teacher.

In the very beginning of our lesson we are saddened by the parting of two good friends and fellow missionaries. They were Paul and Barnabas who had made the first missionary journey together. It was Barnabas, you recall, who had interceded for Paul when the members of the Jerusalem church distrusted him.

As they were about to begin their second missionary journey, Barnabas was determined to take John Mark with them. Paul, however, seems to have distrusted Mark and, as Paul and Barnabas couldn't agree, they separated. Barnabas taking John Mark with him, and Paul taking Silas. Later we read in I Corinthians (9:1), Paul wrote that he and Barnabas "are of one mind," and he also learned to trust Mark.

On the first part of Paul's journey to Derbe and Lystra, he met Timothy, son of a Jewess, who was a believer, and a Greek father. This is the same Timothy to whom Paul addressed such affectionate letters, and who is said to have been the first bishop of Ephesus.

"And so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily." Evidently they were planning to go further in the work, but the Holy Spirit forbade them to go to Asia. Then Paul had a vision at night of a man of Macedonia who begged him to "come to Macedonia to help us."

Feeling that the Lord had called them to preach the gospel in Europe, they sailed from Troas and arrived in Philippi, chief city of Macedonia. There was no synagogue in Philippi, due to the fact that there were not many Jews in the city. Under those circumstances, they were apt to worship in homes or in the out-of-doors.

"And on the Sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made; and we sat down, and spoke unto the women which resorted thither." Luke must have joined Paul on this journey as he uses the pronoun "we," indicating that he was present.

There was a certain woman named Lydia, there, a business woman—seller of purple (the royal color)—and her heart was turned to Christ, and when she had listened to Paul and all her household were baptized. She also urged the disciples to be her guests.

Paul made enemies when he cast out a devil from a damsel who "possessed a spirit of divination," and who followed Paul and his companions everywhere. There were those who made money by exploiting the girl. However, when the evil spirit left her they could no longer do so.

These men took Paul and Silas, to the magistrates saying, "These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city. The magistrates tore their clothes and beat the two men, then threw them into prison, telling the jailer to keep them secure."

That night Paul and Silas prayed and sung, and an earthquake shook the prison so that the doors flew open. The jailer, awakened from sleep, thought his prisoners had escaped, and rather than face his employers he was about to kill himself with his sword, but Paul cried out to him that no one had gone.

Seeing that this was true the man fell on his face before the two Christians, then took them to his house, bathed their wounds, fed them, and he and his household were baptized.

We have not space in one lesson to cover all the episodes assigned. Everywhere they went they made converts, both Jews and Gentiles, but they also made enemies who stirred up the common people to mistreat them. In Thessalonica where they preached, they were driven out and went to Berea where they were courteously received at first, but their enemies followed them and Paul went to Athens.

The episode in Athens is one of the most thrilling in the history of Paul's travels. Athens was a dissolute city at the time, but full of curious people—those who loved to dispute philosophies and religions. They took Paul to Mars Hill where he addressed them:

"Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious. For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, 'To the Unknown God.' Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, Him declare I unto you."

When Paul told the Athenians of the Resurrection, some mocked and others said, "We will hear thee again of this matter." Certain men did believe, however.

In Corinth, Paul's next stop, he met Aquila and Priscilla, his wife; both Christians, and as they were tentmakers, he stayed with them.

Here Crispus, ruler of the synagogue, believed in the Lord. Here the Lord spoke to Paul. In a vision, telling him not to fear, as he, the Lord, was with him. Enemies assailed him even here, dragging him before the Roman ruler, Gallio, accusing him of persuading men "to worship God contrary to the law."

However, Gallio was not the man to offend anyone if he could help it, so he said that if it was a matter of wrong doing he could pass judgment, but as it was a religious matter among the Jews themselves, it was out of his province. And he drove the accusers out of the judgment seat.

MEMORY VERSE—"We hear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the gospel of Christ."—I Corinthians 9:12.

What does Water mean to You?

Are you a fisherman? Then a rippling, tree-lined stream like this beckons you to drop in your line.

But perhaps you're the athletic type. Then you would like to swim. Or you're interested in boats and paddling a canoe would appeal. A weary traveler would long to bathe his face and hands.

A farmer visions fertile acres fed by its life-giving flow. The scientist contemplates the living minutiae in its depths. The engineer calculates its hidden power.

Water is all things to all people. Without it there could be no life.

God is like water. Without Him there can be no life. Without His refreshing invigoration, your soul would shrivel and die. Without His strength and power there would be little good in the world. Without His cleansing love, life would be sordid and unpleasant.

And through the Church you can find Him.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Postponed Program

Once again the House Republican majority has put off a decision on the controversial sales tax issue, this time agreeing to defer a vote until next Monday.

Determination of some GOP members to stand by their refusal to have anything to do with a sales tax is believed to be the principal reason for the continuing delay in bringing the matter to a vote, but Rep. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said the latest deferment of voting action derives from necessity for further study of figures.

It is Rep. Johnson's belief that the new figures will show that a 1 per cent sales tax can be enacted with a consequent elimination of many "nuisance" taxes.

An even larger number of exemptions from the sales tax are under consideration, designed to gather greater support of the much discussed measure, although just what these additional exemptions will be has not been made public.

One thing remains certain through the dilatory program of providing taxes with which to meet the state's obligations, and that is the firm determination of the Democratic members to vote solidly against any sales tax, whatever the percentage may be. Added to these numerous votes, of course, are those of the Republican members who see no virtue in a sales tax and prefer some other form of income for the commonwealth.

Not one word about wringing the water out of a fat budget. Apparently Rep. Johnson and the Fine administration are not even thinking about the word economy.

The people of Monroe County have a tremendous responsibility this week-end. Their task is to remind Rep. John S. Shotwell they do not want any more taxes.

Shotwell will be under probably the greatest pressure of this session when he returns to Harrisburg Monday. He must be given the solid backing of every citizen in his present opposition to the Sales tax.

Mission Accomplished

Toward the last of June, 1946, the Army quartermaster was embarrassed to find a surplus of 45 million dollars—which would go back into the Federal Treasury if he didn't spend it before the end of the month.

So a colonel was ordered to invest it in a new-type overcoat, with built-in leggings. He managed to do that, but when the coats were delivered soldiers had trouble zipping themselves into them. So by another top-level decision, the leggings were cut out of 751,527 coats at an additional cost of $972,244.

What happened to the coats after that hasn't been established. Perhaps that is unimportant.

The original problem was to spend 45 million dollars in a hurry and that mission was accomplished.

Whose Party?

Rep. Frederic Couderc, New York Republican, has dug up the fact that every time one of those Government-subsidized ships is launched, the taxpayer shells out $1000 for the party thrown by the shipbuilders.

In a way, the taxpayer on this deal is sort of like the ship he pays for in part. First, his pockets are pumped out like a drydock. Then he's built up and, when the time is right, the skids are all greased up for him and down he goes after being hit on the nose by a bottle of champagne that he has paid for in part.

And as long as they're going to throw parties, with his dough, the least they can do is invite him to come.

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

Window-washers have begun the job of washing the five thousand and four hundred windows in the United Nations' skyscraper. We assume that in going ahead with this outdoor job the usual indoor pattern as U.N. was followed.

Chairman — We will come to order. The item on today's agenda is window-washing. Are there any speakers?

British-Sir, my delegation is prepared to sanction this window-washing operation. We question the timing but are willing to go along with those favoring the idea.

France—My government is for opaque windows and a clear view from the inside out. At the same time this is no ordinary window-washing operation, but a gigantic project upon which we should not proceed too hastily. We must face the question: Are we capable of attaining a five thousand, four hundred window objective or should be settle for less at this time.

Poland—The Polish delegation opposes this window-washing until it knows more about it. It is all very well for certain interests to say five thousand, four hundred windows are dirty, but where is the proof? This could be an old bandit trick of certain people to impose upon tenants who do not want their windows washed. Their right to dirty windows must be respected.

Russia—The U. S. R. R. charges that this window-washing project is a plot. We have affidavits to show that most of the window-cleaners employed on this operation are dirty spies. As the whole world knows, water buckets and chamois skins have been loaded with bacilli in an extension of germ warfare. Only yesterday a sponge was dropped from the twenty-third floor, landing on an unsuspecting victim who became an immediate victim of typhus, smallpox and sponge-fright. Furthermore, it is a violation of the U. N. charter to wash windows.

United States—Sir, this is the same old battle between the free world and the slave world. The free world wants to wash win-

Dear Sir:

There is hope for 100,000 dying Americans. Diseases like Polio, Cerebral Palsy, Heart Disease, and Rheumatic Fever are well known to both the Public and medical authorities, but do you know that there exists another disease that is unique and at present has at least 100,000 diagnosed victims? Unique because no one knows the Cause, Treatment or cure for Muscular Dystrophy. It is a fatal and mysterious disease that attacks the voluntary muscles of the body and eventually renders useless the entire muscular system. It is more prevalent in children although it is no respecter of Age, Sex, Color, or Locality.

No organized attempts to combat this killer were made until two years ago when a small group of parents of victims banded together and formed the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Then the Tall Cedars of Lebanon, a branch of the Masonic Fraternity was the first fraternal organization to adopt Muscular Dystrophy Relief as its National Objective. The result of their efforts thus far have been the creation of a Metabolism Ward at the New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center.

Millions of lives depend on more knowledge of Muscular Dystrophy and undoubtedly many thousands have died due to lack of research.

Muscular Dystrophy ranks as a major challenge to the medical world which should be faced with the determination to find the solution. Efforts of the Muscular Dystrophy Association and the Tall Cedars of Lebanon to raise funds to bring this about, deserve whole-hearted support.

Mr. Horace G. Heller, Editor, Stroudsburg Daily Record, Stroudsburg, Penna.
Dear Sir:

Three hundred citizens of Tobyhanna, Coolbaugh Township, recently signed a petition favoring the Wherry Housing Project on Government Lands. Then the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution supporting private interests in opposition to the above plan. This puts the average citizen in a quandary.

Perhaps the following questions, if answered, will clarify the issues.

First, just what has been accomplished by the New Town Development Commission in the two and one-half years of its existence? What tangible evidence is there (other than its planning) that the above named Commission is prepared to start erecting housing units within a reasonable time, so that the houses will be available for the permanent personnel of the signal corps at the opening of the Depot in February, 1954? The Wherry Housing Project, on the other hand, will supply 200 units for immediate occupancy by the above date.

Secondly, a definite tax income is assured Coolbaugh Township from the Wherry Project, consisting of a per-capita tax as an aid to township property tax income, and government tuition payments as an aid to school tax income. Yet, what assurance is there that any immediate income will be forthcoming to the township from the still-projected New Town Housing Development?

Thirdly, what assurance can the New Town Development Commission give us that sufficient housing units will be actually constructed to supply the needs of the Tobyhanna Signal Corps Depot in time for its formal opening in February of 1954?

If these questions can be properly answered, I feel that the citizens of Coolbaugh Township will be able to resolve all doubts which they may presently have.

Sincerely yours,
JOSEPH RICE

SEVEN LEAGUE BOOTS—WE HOPE

Peace feelers may be designed to discover if the adversary is receptive, or they may be designed for propaganda purposes to weaken unity among other nations. Peace feelers are unnecessary if nations have honorable purposes, as they can make their intentions known through the ordinary channels of diplomatic communications.

Actually, Soviet Russia is represented at the capitals of the Great Powers by ambassadors who can speak to the head of each state directly. Also, Russia is fully represented at the United Nations where its emissaries often speak too long and too often. Therefore, the indirect peace feeler is an unnecessary device if the intent is to accomplish peace.

President Eisenhower has taken a more direct route to peace, namely, he has stated the maximum American terms in clear language. It cannot be assumed that Russia will accept the maximum American position; therefore, it is to be expected that on May 1, the day of revolutionary celebration, either Malenkov or Molotov will state Russia's maximum terms. If that happens, a conference will undoubtedly be arranged, perhaps of foreign ministers, that is, Dulles, Eden and Molotov, or it might include the representatives of other countries, to see whether a common basis may be found.

President Eisenhower's maximum terms for peace are just. His speech on the subject was a magnificent state paper of the highest order. Should it become the basis for discussion for peace, the greatest progress in the direction of peace will have been made since 1943. At the Teheran (1943) and Yalta (1945) conferences, the basis was war, not peace.

If the Russians really mean peace, they are not under any compulsion to accept President Eisenhower's terms as stated; they do have a moral obligation to bargain on the basis of his terms, or to state their own. Peace is not readily attainable in the complexities of an armed world. But if peace is desired, a contractual basis can be found. In other periods in human history, ways to peace have been found: During the 19th century, such statesmen as Talleyrand, Stein, Bismarck and even Castlereagh sought peace and found it for 99 years.

If we can, in this generation, find 99 years of peace, or even 50 years of peace, it will be a godsend. In terms of international relations, peace means an avoidance of any general war; it means a period during which such wars as occur are limited.

The Russians will undoubtedly object most to two points in Eisenhower's speech:

1. "The enforcement of all these agreed limitations and prohibitions by adequate safeguards, including a practical system of inspection under the United Nations . . .
2. "Any nation's right to a form of government and an economic system of its own choosing is inalienable.

"Any nation's attempt to dictate to other nations their form of government is indefensible." Point two involves definite violations of the Yalta and Potsdam Agreements, which provided for democratic elections under supervision of the Allied powers in those countries which are now known as satellites. That would, in effect, open Poland, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and perhaps Czechoslovakia and Albania to a new election, under the supervision either of the signatories to the Yalta Agreement or the United Nations.

The effect of that could be that Russia could lose one or more of these satellites. It might change the political map of Europe. It is impossible to believe that Russia will agree to such terms short of an all-out war. Yet, it would be unbelievable that General Eisenhower would ask for less in any statement of his maximum terms.

As regards his demand for "a practical system of inspection under the United Nations," this is a reiteration of the Baruch proposal concerning the atom bomb and is absolutely sound. Any retreat from such inspection would vitiate the entire program. No nation can be trusted, in the present circumstances of an armed world, to police itself, particularly with regard to a disarmament program.

After World War I, Germany was disarmed; yet Hitler built an effective army, stockpiled for a six-year war. After the Washington Conference (1922), Japan was supposed to reduce her fleet to a ratio of 5-5-3. Actually Japan built a secret fleet which proved to be effective for a time in World War II.

Inspection is an essential instrument of world peace and the President was wise in restating it in his terms.

President Eisenhower has challenged the Russian government to prove its peace overtures, stop Red aggression in Asia and give independence to its European satellites. That's a busy program that should keep the Moscow boys out of mischief for a while.

He made his address to a group of newspaper editors but we know who he was really talking to.

In a city school speaking championship test, three boys won out over three girls. That doesn't mean the lads got in the last words—just the best!

Our selection for the person showing the most consistent form in this young new baseball season is the weatherman. He's been creating a batch of July double-headers every day.

When a baseball manager says "We have an interesting team," it's six-two-and-even the club is headed for the second division.

If that happens, a conference will undoubtedly be arranged, perhaps of foreign ministers, that is, Dulles, Eden and Molotov, or it might include the representatives of other countries, to see whether a common basis may be found.

President Eisenhower's maximum terms for peace are just. His speech on the subject was a magnificent state paper of the highest order. The Russians will undoubtedly object most to two points in Eisenhower's speech:

2. "Any nation's right to a form of government and an economic system of its own choosing is inalienable.

"Any nation's attempt to dictate to other nations their form of government is indefensible." Point two involves definite violations of the Yalta and Potsdam Agreements, which provided for democratic elections under supervision of the Allied powers in those countries which are now known as satellites. That would, in effect, open Poland, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and perhaps Czechoslovakia and Albania to a new election, under the supervision either of the signatories to the Yalta Agreement or the United Nations.

The effect of that could be that Russia could lose one or more of these satellites. It might change the political map of Europe. It is impossible to believe that Russia will agree to such terms short of an all-out war. Yet, it would be unbelievable that General Eisenhower would ask for less in any statement of his maximum terms.

As regards his demand for "a practical system of inspection under the United Nations," this is a reiteration of the Baruch proposal concerning the atom bomb and is absolutely sound. Any retreat from such inspection would vitiate the entire program. No nation can be trusted, in the present circumstances of an armed world, to police itself, particularly with regard to a disarmament program.

C. F. Strunk Found Dead At His Home

Clarence Floyd Strunk, 72, was found dead yesterday afternoon in the Stroudsburg RD2 house where he lived.

Mr. Strunk's body was discovered shortly after noon by a neighbor, Howard Bertron.

Bertron told police he had visited Mr. Strunk Tuesday. At that time, Strunk complained of illness. Bertron did not see the elderly man alive again.

Yesterday, the neighbor decided to investigate. Peering through a window, he saw the man's body lying inside. Bertron immediately notified State Police, at "about 12:30 p.m."

Trooper Pete Walsh arrived at the house on the old Tanite Road at about 12:40. Trooper Walsh notified Justice of Peace William Walton who served as coroner in the absence of county coroner William Andrew.

Walton issued a certificate showing death by natural causes; released the body to William H. Clark funeral home.

Funeral services will be held on Monday at 2 p.m. at Clark funeral home. Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlens will officiate. Interment in Reeder's Cemetery.

Mr. Strunk, who was a stone mason by trade, had lived here all his life. He was born in East Stroudsburg.

He had been married twice. His first wife was the former Lizzie E. Miller; the second was the former Dorothy Heiler. Both are dead.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Claud Rudd, Stewartsville, N. J. and Mrs. Erban Renner, Phillipsburg; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Erna Koenig, Union City, N. J.; one son, Dr. Waldo G. Edelman, Southfield, Mass.; ten grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; two brothers, George, Bangor, and Harry, Nazareth; four sisters, Mrs. Alice Regg, Bangor; Mrs. Elsie Stiles, Easton; Mrs. Edna Hedrick, Bethlehem, and Mrs. Joseph Noack, Peck's Pond.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Let's not get into our annual wrangle about which way to turn the clocks tonight. All I'm sure of is that we're going to lose an hour from a weekend, and a weekend never has enough hours anyway. Of course we'll get it back, come September—but it's not the same springtime hour that we're losing now.

Of course we waste a lot of hours every day. Not in pleasure, which is never wasted. Not in work which is satisfying. Not in loafing, which has its own reward. But in dithering, which is neither work, nor pleasure, nor idleness but a sort of tentative reaching out for all three.

However, the advent of Daylight Saving time isn't nearly as exciting as it used to be when Stroudsburg went on Daylight time, East Stroudsburg didn't, and the rural section wrote letters about "God's Time."

Then there was always somebody arriving an hour late or an hour early, and everybody stood around on street corners heatedly debating the thing all summer long.

Now, outside of a few days you oversleep, and a few nights when nobody goes to bed on time, the whole thing slides in so smoothly that you hardly realize it. Of course that's good—but not as exciting.

GOP Council Contributes To Playground

Mount Pocono. All committee members, who made possible the successful Coronation Fashion Show at Pocono Manor last Friday night received a vote of thanks from members of the Pocono Mountain Council of Republican Women who attended the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday April 21 at the home of Mrs. George Humphrey, Council president.

Mrs. Harry Taylor, who was chairman of tickets, was unable to give a complete report because a number of tickets were still unaccounted for. She requested all who had had tickets to return either the tickets or the money as soon as possible so that accounts can be settled.

Mrs. Lloyd Schaffner of Mt. Pocono and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bogert of Swiftwater were commended for the excellent manner in which they had carried their responsibilities for properties during the evening of the show. Mrs. Walter Schneider, at whose home the costumes had been stored until distributed or returned to their owners, received the sincere thanks of the club for her work along with other members of her committee.

Much merriment accompanied the perusal of the "photographs" which had been taken by Vincent April during the show. Members enjoyed studying the expression on the faces of the audience as much as they did the antics of the participants in the cast.

A substantial donation to the playground project of the Mt. Pocono PTA was made as the first use of the welfare fund for which the show was held.

The next meeting will be held on Election Night, May 18. All members were urged to take part in the Primary Election by Mr. Andrew McGinley, Political Activities Chairman.

Cat, 23, Ends Last of Nine Active Lives

Jerry, the cat who has been the lifelong companion of Mrs. Margaret Goldie of Scott Street, died on Thursday at the age of 23, thus ending all nine of his colorful lives. Jerry's mother died at his birth in Williamsport, and he was bottle fed by his mistress, then just a teen-ager.

Throughout his life he has been her constant companion, including the years when her husband was in service. He had a full life of his own however, and bore the battle scars of many a midnight battle. Even this year, his twenty-third, he was able to keep the neighborhood cats in subjection, and his very appearance was enough to send them scurrying for cover.

Mrs. Goldie has an oil painting of Jerry, painted several years ago by a Mrs. J. Charles Smith's mother while she was visiting next door. The painting shows him in all his brown and black coloring, with the white feet, sunning himself on the brick wall back of the house.

He has been in excellent health. Even during the last two weeks he seemed to have no specific illness except loss of appetite and he died quietly in his sleep.

Mr. Goldy, however, isn't sure that all of his nine lives are over. As he was burying him with appropriate ceremonies in the back yard on Thursday night, another cat appeared on the hill. "If Jerry had seen him, he'd have come right out of his grave," he reported when he came in.

Joyce Kresge Celebrates 10th Birthday

Snydersville — Joyce Kresge celebrated her 10th birthday on April 11 when she received many cards and gifts. Joyce and her sister, Linda, and Anita Ace attended the movie "Ma and Pa Kettle on Vacation" in the afternoon, and a family party was held at night.

A decorated birthday cake and ice cream was served to her aunt and uncle and cousin Mr. and Mrs. Donald Storm and son, LeRoy of Stroudsburg RD1; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Storm, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kresge, and her brother Lowell and sisters, Linda and Katrina.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Yesterday was my birthday . . . and thanks to all the friendly people who comprise our store family, it was the least painful . . . and probably the happiest . . . I've ever known.

Here at Wyckoff's birthday's are treated as special events . . . Mr. Wyckoff himself sees to that. On all such occasions, he makes it a point to stop by the department or desk of the celebrant, sing his greetings, and present a gift. This is such a familiar and cherished ritual, it's become as much a part of store history as the first ad or the original Conestoga wagon. It is a custom for which we are all grateful . . . and one that was carried out faithfully, in his father's name, by Holt Wyckoff when Mr. E. H. Sr. was in Europe.

Just a few weeks ago, a number of us surprised our store family president, Edna Harmon, with a party on her birthday. And so the party idea occurred to me yesterday when I arrived to find a big, beautiful cake on my desk. And invitation "for three, or after" was circulated via the store grapevine. But the girls of the Lounge Committee had had the same idea earlier, and we suddenly found ourselves with not just one, but two parties and two cakes.

I mention all this for several very definite reasons. In the first place, it was all so exciting. I couldn't possibly write about anything else. And in the second place, I feel that such occasions show, perhaps more than anything else, the fine spirit that has contributed so much to the success of A. B. Wyckoff in its 78 year history.

As friends came and went throughout the afternoon, I kept thinking how wonderful it was to work in an organization where everyone knows everyone else, and where no one objects to a little time out during the day for good fellowship. It seems to me that ours is a pretty special group of people. Chattering happily over their refreshments we had Bessie Ramsey, Adelaide Garis, Margaret Oildorf and a score of others who have chalked up varied years of service with the company, and others like Jane Bush, Beverly Rusk, and Hannah Shupp, who have been here only a few months. What is more, there were folks present from the display department, up under the eaves, right down into the Sears basement. And everyone had a good time. I'm sure it would never be necessary to run a help wanted ad, if more people could glimpse the good will and friendliness that is part and parcel of Wyckoff's.

I don't know who it was that bestowed the slogan "The Friendly Store" upon Wyckoff's. It may have been an advertising man. It COULD have been a customer. Maybe it was a saleswoman or an office girl who first used the phrase. The important thing is that it's true . . . not only on the surface, but back out of sight. Behind the scenes. And aren't we fortunate?

Stroudsburg

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

It appears safe to assume that both the Stroudsburg-Palmerton and Stroudsburg-Northampton Lehigh Valley League baseball games will be played at Gordon Giffels field as scheduled next week. The face lifting being given the local ball yard was far enough advanced Thursday to allow the Mountaineers to hold their first infield drill on the Giffels field surface. Palmerton invades the W. Main St. field on Tuesday and Whitehall makes its 1953 baseball appearance locally on Friday.

Tannersville is scheduled to sport new uniforms when the Pocono Mountains Baseball League opens its campaign on Sunday, May 10. Coach Otto "Junior" Mills has the task of replacing his entire outfield, third baseman and first baseman at Chestnut Hill High. The pitching-catcher twins, Bob and Dick Burkett are still with the Chestnut Hill entry in the Monroe County Baseball League.

The Record Major Bowling League holds its championship rollover at the Pocono Bowling Center tonight and its annual banquet at the Elks Club on Wednesday of next week. East Stroudsburg State Teachers College is the number one foe on the King's College football schedule next season. The game is carded for October 3, at night. Joe Tiehy, a student at ESSTC and an ardent follower of ESSTC athletic squads, recently became the father of twins born at the Monroe County General Hospital. The Monroe County Softball League is searching for an eighth team.

Seven clubs are ready to operate in the league, but all efforts are being made to procure an eighth squad, so a better balanced league can be formed. Everyone interested in Ray Steele, former basketball and baseball star at East Stroudsburg High, is thrilled with the lanky right hander's relief job against Reading, although Williamsport lost its opening Eastern League battle, 13-8. Ray wasn't the losing hurler as he worked four scoreless frames. Don't forget the Ham and Oyster supper being held at the Anasimink POS of A Hall today.

All proceeds from the supper will go toward supporting the Anasimink entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League this summer. Serving will take place between 5 and 8 p. m. Yesterday was the first big day of scholastic and collegiate baseball in this area. No less than six games were played, while a seventh battle originally listed for Monday was postponed until Tuesday. The postponed encounter will feature Tobyhanna Township and Coolbaugh on the former's home field in Pocono Pines.

Ray Stengel, former East Stroudsburg High School football coach, recently resigned a similar position at Sharon Hill High. Stengel quit his East Stroudsburg post in the Spring of 1948. He entered the Army at that point and then came back to coach creditable teams at Sharon Hill for the last three years. No reason for Stengel's resignation was made public, but it was learned that he would complete the current school year as a teacher.

I see where the Emmaus Lions Club has stepped in to keep American Legion baseball alive in Emmaus. The Lions will aid the American Legion Post of that locality in fielding a team this summer. I certainly wish some sort of a deal could be worked out in this area to keep American Legion baseball alive. Our column of yesterday had as much meaning to American Legion baseball as to any other form of athletics. Baseball of American Legion calibre is needed as badly in this area as in any other community in the country. It can be done.

Warriorettes Invade Ursinus

Girls of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College open the 1953 tennis season today, when the charges of Coach Mary Whittenight tangle with Ursinus College, on the latter's home courts. The match is scheduled to begin at 2 p. m.

Coach Whittenight announced last night that Jean Hecht, Nancy Nell and Elaine Hardenbergh will handle the singles assignments in that order.

Doubles
The number one doubles team will feature Marion LePietre and Mary Martin. The second doubles contingent is made up of Martha McAndrew and Ethel Moyer.

Mary Jane Zimmerman, field hockey goalie, is senior manager of the tennis squad this year. The Warriorettes play their initial home match next Wednesday, with Drexel supplying the opposition.

Antonocci Blanks Hellertown For East Stroudsburg

Sommers, Arnst Homer In Winning Cause

Joe Antonocci tossed a two-hit shutout at Hellertown, at East Stroudsburg playground, as the Cavaliers opened the 1953 Lehigh-Northampton League baseball flag race with a 6-0 victory yesterday.

Antonocci, veteran right handed hurler, was the master from start to finish and would have turned in a no-hit performance, if it hadn't been for the big bat of Jim McGoldrick, who lashed out two singles in three trips to the plate for Hellertown.

John "Juice" Arnst and Jack Sommers banged out the big hits in a winning cause, as both senior infielders drilled long circuit blows into deepest right-center field.

Both of the home runs came in the third inning and each landed almost exactly in the same spot. It was the third homer of the present season for Arnst and the first for Sommers. Both are left handed batters.

First Run
East Stroudsburg opened the scoring without the benefit of a hit in the first inning, but drove the starting Hellertown hurler to cover in the third, when the Cavaliers accounted for four runs.

The home team added an insurance marker in the fourth. In all, the Cavaliers banged out six hits, good for 13 bases. Dick Transue led the attack with a perfect two-for-two day at the plate.

Antonocci was never in danger of losing, as the Portland resident struck out 13 visiting batsmen and walked only three.

Campbell shot three-under-par golf at Bill Hyndman, of Abington, Pa., for a four and three victory. The distance moves up to 36 holes for today's finals.

Carter Wipes Up Ring With Collins

Boston, (AP)—Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter knocked down courageous but futile Tommy Collins of Boston, 10 times before being awarded a technical knockout decision in 2:28 of the fourth round of their scheduled 15-round championship boxing bout last night at the Boston Garden.

Starting out as the 2-1 favorite, the workmanlike champion from the Bronx lost little time convincing the highly partisan Collins crowd that he was far superior to the Boston idol in every possible boxing respect.

First Time
The aggressive Collins went down for the first time under a tremendous left to the jaw early in the third round, after losing the first two sessions. The Bostonian took the compulsory eight-count and fought back in gallant fashion.

But the cool and workmanlike Carter dropped him five more times, for nine-counts, in the third session before the bell came to the rescue of the hopelessly beaten Bostonian.

Moore Checks Mountaineers On Four Hits

Northampton—Stroudsburg High extended its scoring famine to 14 straight innings yesterday and in so doing lost its first Lehigh Valley League baseball outing of the season, as Northampton came up with a 2-0 victory, here on the home grounds of the Konkret Kids.

The loss evened Stroudsburg's league record at one win and the same number of setbacks. The other reversal suffered by the Mountaineers was a non-circuit affair.

Dick Moore, a stylish southpaw hurler, kept Stroudsburg completely in check throughout the game, while his Northampton teammates, touched Bill "Bump" Metzger for six hits and two important runs.

Scoring
Moore stopped the Mountaineers cold with nine strikeouts, only one walk and four hits. Metzger fanned two, walked two and gave up six hits. Four actual Stroudsburg errors and at least two mental mistakes also figured in the Northampton scoring.

A single, an error and an outfield fly enabled Northampton to break the scoring famine in the second. A walk, two stolen bases by Moore and a single gave the home team an insurance marker in the fourth.

Yankees Clip Senators, 4-1

New York, (AP)—Eddie Lopat held tight in the clutches to whip Washington with an eight hitter yesterday, 4-1, scoring the tie-breaking run for the New Yorkers in the fifth after doubling to the right-field wall.

Hot Streak
Gene Woodling, who had four hits yesterday against Boston, extended his string to six straight hits with a homer in the second inning and a single in the fourth. He walked in the sixth but finally was thrown out in the eighth.

Counting walks he had been on base eight consecutive times at last since the eighth inning Wednesday.

Local College Fifth In Mile Relay

Philadelphia, (AP)—Cheyney State Teachers College won the Pennsylvania State Teachers College mile relay at the 59th annual Penn Relay Carnival yesterday.

The Cheyney quartet of Walter Womack, Arnold Webster, James Washington and Harold Green, was timed in 3:28.4 over a fast track. West Chester finished second followed by Edinboro, Shippensburg and East Stroudsburg.

Rally
The third place Edinboro team consisted of lead man John McBride, James Wolf, Jack Verity and anchor man Joe Shesman.

Edinboro ran next to last in the six team field for most of the race, but Shesman spurred on the final lap to finish third.

Hutchins, batting in the number nine slot, put on a solo act for the home team's second run, as he slammed his first 1952 homer over the left-center field wall in the fifth, after Panzer pitcher John Kyrakakis had retired the first batter in that inning.

Mellman was in serious trouble only in the fourth inning, when he walked the bases full, after retiring the first two batters. The sixth man up in the inning rolled out, Bill Frear to Hartman, ending a possible uprising.

County Board Rules Against Annexation

Monroe County School Directors tentatively recommended against annexation of the "Knob Area" in Paradise Township by Mount Pocono borough at a meeting this week.

Request for annexation of the land had been made to school board by the borough.

"Knob Area" borders on Mount Pocono and consists of all ground between railroad tracks and the borough line.

Although the ground currently comes under borough jurisdiction in most matters, it is not considered a portion of the borough's land for school purposes.

County school directors were asked only to "recommend" action which they thought should be taken to the State Council of Education.

In a letter addressed to the council yesterday, county board secretary Harry J. Drennan outlined the present situation as follows:

"A few weeks ago the Monroe County Board of School Directors was requested to make a recommendation concerning the annexation of the 'Knob Area' which borders on the borough of Mount Pocono and is, at the present time, in the Paradise Township School District."

"After investigating the proposed annexation and after studying the briefs submitted by the attorney for Mount Pocono Borough School District and the attorney for the Paradise Township School District, the Monroe County Board of School Directors voted unanimously against the annexation of the Knob Area in Paradise Township to the borough . . . at the present time."

"In arriving at their decision they pointed out the fact that if there were children in this area they would not be transported past the Mount Pocono Borough School but would be transported southward away from the borough school to go to the Paradise Township School."

It also appeared to our county board that since there were no children of school age in this area, no benefit could result to the families residing therein as a result of the annexation."

Possible loss of revenue to the township was also cited as a contributing factor in the county board's decision to recommend against annexation of the properties.

The board's decision will be studied by the State Council of Education, Department of Public Instruction, for further action.

Girls Honor Home Nursing Instructors

Cresco Home economics girl students in Barrett High School held a tea yesterday honoring two Stroudsburg women who conduct courses in home nursing for the Red Cross in schools throughout the county.

Mrs. Shoemith and Mrs. Stanford travel from school to school throughout the county each year, holding morning and afternoon classes in practical home nursing.

All schools in the county participate, including both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg borough.

The tea was prepared and served under supervision of Mrs. June Price Young, homemaker instructor in the school.

Other guests were Mrs. Ida Kunkle of the county Red Cross office, Miss Miriam Lark, county vocational homemaker supervisor and Andrew W. Lewis, principal of the Barrett school.

John Eaton Valedictorian, Norma Ace Salutatorian Of East Stroudsburg High Class

Honor students for East Stroudsburg High School, senior class were announced yesterday by Ralph O. Burrows, school principal.

Valedictorian for the year will be John Eaton, son of Rev. and Mrs. Harold C. Eaton, East Stroudsburg.

Salutatorian is Norma Ace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ace, 12 Park St., East Stroudsburg.

He is now serving as president of the Student Council, the Senior Class, National Honor Society, School Band and the twin-borough youth center at the American Legion Home.

Active in band activities during his entire high school association, Eaton was student director during his junior and senior years and is accompanist for boys chorus and the mixed ensemble. He is master of percussion in the school's symphonic band.

A piano soloist and composer, Eaton has studied music composition under the Shillinger system which uses mathematics as a base for musical form.

He has been editor of "The Eastburger" and a member of both junior and senior play casts; was writer and director of the school minstrel show. He recently won first place in a countywide contest for the best essay on the United Nations.

Miss Ace has been active in Tri-Hi-Y, Dancing Club, Junior Historical Club, the school yearbook staff, girls chorus and the National Honor Society.

She was secretary of both junior and senior classes, received the Exchange Club's "Youth of the Month" award earlier this year and is the recipient of the DAR award this year.

She intends to go to the Computer School in Allentown for further study in clerical and bookkeeping work following her graduation.

Dr. Brown To Address Honor Grads

Dr. Robert Brown, former superintendent of Stroudsburg schools, will be main speaker at "Honor Graduates Night" Monday at East Stroudsburg's Exchange Club.

The annual meeting at which Exchange members commend honor students in all county high schools will be held in East Stroudsburg Methodist Church beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. Brown, for many years a prominent educator in this area, is well-known as a fine speaker and a man who is intensely interested in the problems of young people.

Other honor guests will be the board of control of the twin-borough youth center. Exchange Club is a principal backer of the center.

This year the Exchange organization will give its first annual "Youth of the Year" award. Throughout the school year, the club has presented monthly awards to an outstanding student of the East Stroudsburg High School.
